InCase Modernisation as a Service (MaaS)

Clarity, Control, and Continuity for Modernisation

Modernising your legacy assets unlocks lower maintenance costs, faster time to change, cleaner compliance, and a platform your business can grow on.

InCase combines deep legacy modernisation experience, technical consultancy, and proprietary tooling to help clients understand their systems, decide what should change, and plan a controlled path forward. The key benefits of our service are:

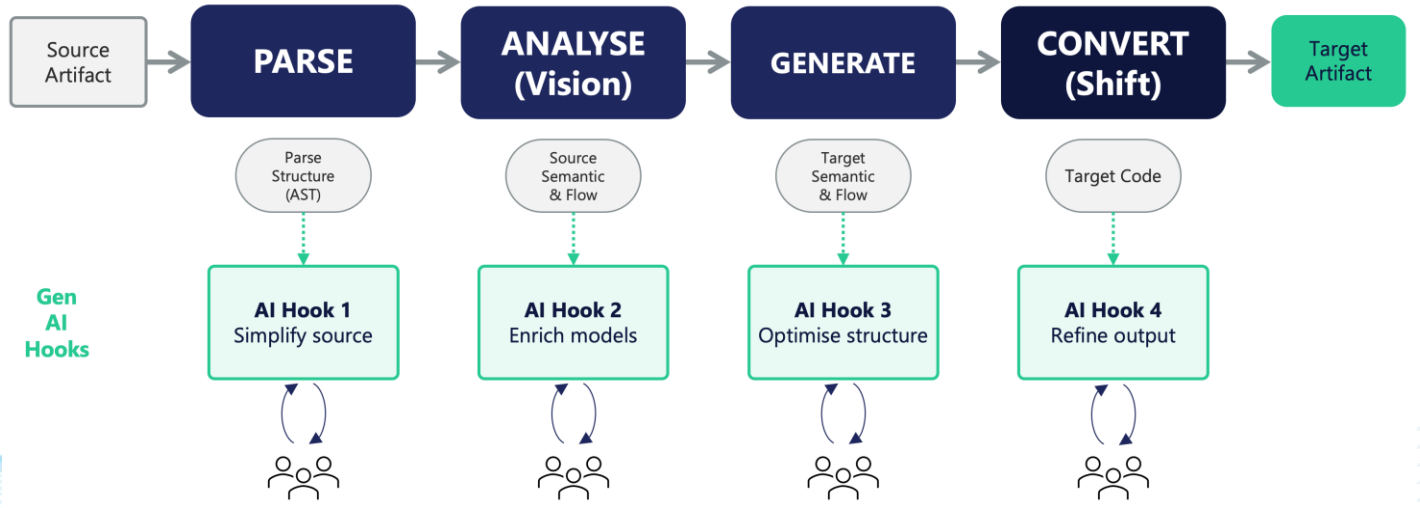

- ✓ Clarity - Full visibility of the in-scope estate, what it does, and the cost and impact of change before you commit
- ✓ Control - We modernise, migrate, or combine approaches based on what your business needs
- ✓ Continuity - Our structured, expert validated approach is designed to keep the business running at every stage

Our structured approach begins by testing whether, where, and how modernisation is justified, then supports evidence led analysis through to validated delivery. Each engagement uses the elements that fit the client's needs and can stop at an agreed decision point. Outputs from completed stages provide a reusable foundation for whatever comes next.

The InCase Modernisation Service can be used as an advisory engagement, an independent modernisation health check, specialist consultancy, or a full modernisation project. In every case, we draw on NordIQ Flow - our repeatable modernisation approach, tailored to the scope and outcome required.

NordIQ, our proprietary technology suite, enriches the service with automation and generative AI under expert supervision. NordIQ Vision helps analyse and visualise the in scope source estate, while NordIQ Shift supports controlled transformation to the chosen target. The approach simplifies source, enriches models, optimises structure, and refines output while keeping transformation choices and approvals visible.

Every InCase engagement is consultancy led and outcome focused, drawing on decades of delivery in regulated environments where continuity matters. Our structured approach combines automation with expert judgement and is built around a simple commitment: helping you make informed choices while keeping your business running.
